Air Force Launches Live Mouse in Rocket Nose

AIRMEN SAY THEY WERE THREATENED WITH DEATH
AFTER TAKEN PRISONERS

By JOHN BAUSMAN

WIESBADEN, Germany (U)—Soviet civilians threatened to hang one of nine U. S. airmen shot down in Soviet Armenia, and roughed up others, a U. S. Air Force colonel said today.

Col. Dale D. Brannon of Chardon, Ohio, senior officer aboard the unarmed transport plane that was shot down in flames June 27, said Maj. Bennie A. Shupe of Miami, Fla., narrowly escaped being lynched.

"The rope was attached to a telephone pole and the mouse was being placed over his head when he managed to convey to them the fact that he was an American," Brannon told a crowd of news conference.

Commander
Is Visiting
Cuban Base

GUANTANAMO, Cuba (U)

Adm. Jeraud Wright, commander of the U. S. Atlantic fleet, flew into the U. S. Navy base here in a jet plane today to make a first hand check on the delay by Cuban rebels in releasing 30 captive U. S. servicemen and a Canadian.

In Havana, hopes ran high at the U. S. embassy that some of the servicemen would be released shortly.

Fidel Castro's rebels released two more American civilians Wednesday as they continued their bid by bit release of the 50 North American hostages taken since June 28.

Adm. Wright immediately went into conference with Rear Adm. R. B. Ellis, the base commander here, and planned to return later to his headquarters in Norfolk, Va. It was possible Wright would go to Washington Friday for a direct report.

Air Force Plane
In Crackup Near
Tucumcari, N. M.

TUCUMCARI, N. M. (AP)—An

Air Force weather reconnaissance plane spun in from two miles high late Wednesday and scattered wreckage over a two-mile area.

A spokesman from Laughlin Air Force Base, Del Rio, Tex., where the plane was based, said police misinterpreted orders and this led to a cloak of secrecy being thrown over the crash.

The pilot was Capt. Alfred V. Chapin Jr., 28, San Angelo, Tex. The Laughlin spokesman said the U2 jet was on a routine weather reconnaissance flight when it crashed. He said it carried classified instruments, but there was nothing specially secret about it.

The spokesman said police were asked to aid the pilot if he were still alive, and if not, to "secure the area," meaning not to touch the wreckage.

However, the military immediately cordoned off roads leading to the crash site and spectators were kept five miles from the wreckage on orders from the 2nd Air Command at Shreveport, La. Laughlin said the pilot was found dead in the cockpit.

William Voigt, Jr., executive director of the commission, said similar action was taken last season on 29 lakes.

"It is expected that the number of lakes on the extended trout season list will increase each year as additional water reservoirs become available for public fishing and as the lakes reclamation program of the commission advances," Voigt said.

Racket Probe
Committee
Plans Switch

WASHINGTON (U)—Ralph J.

Guttsell, who said he has no gangster friends, testified today he was fired from his job as lawyer for the Chicago Restaurant Assn. because he failed to block the picketing of a restaurant.

Guttsell didn't name the union involved in the 1955 picketing of the Nantucket Restaurant. Aides to the Senate Rackets Committee before which he testified said it was the Restaurant Workers Local 394.

The committee announced it planned to switch quickly from this subject to exploration of an alleged 1954 gangland plot to murder Chicago lawyer Abraham Teitelbaum — and what happened to the would-be executioners.

Teitelbaum, onetime lawyer for the family of mobster Al Capone, is scheduled to testify before the committee today in its investigation of alleged gangster infiltration of unions and legitimate business.

Guttsell, of Flossmoor, Ill., testified he was fired because he failed to prevent picketing at the restaurant after the union had shown him membership cards which he said indicated that at least 19 of the restaurant's approximately 30 workers wanted the local to represent them.

He said the restaurant refused to negotiate a contract after he had reported this.

The committee said it plans to look into the reputed plot to kill Teitelbaum principally through testimony of two Chicago police officers.

A central figure in a 1951 House investigation of tax scandals, Teitelbaum ultimately was indicted and placed on probation after conviction on income tax evasion charges. He says he now lives in Hollywood, serving as technical director of a motion picture about Capone's crime career.

Robert F. Kennedy, the committee counsel, told reporters it was not a conspiracy to kill him. At the time, Teitelbaum was a consultant to the Chicago Restaurant Association.

Pittsburgh Officials
Probe Mystery Death

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Homicide

detectives are investigating the death of George P. Shipley, 44, the son of Uniontown truck-line owner Morgan B. Shipley Sr.

Shipley was found dead Wednesday near the Parkway West. An autopsy performed at the Allegheny County Morgue showed that he died of shock and hemorrhages due to a crushed chest and body contusions.

Detectives say that Shipley may have fallen from a ramp which carries traffic from Saw Mill Run Blvd. in Pittsburgh to the Parkway West.

Agreement Is Reached at Ottawa Talks

OTTAWA (AP)—President

Eisenhower and Prime Minister John Diefenbaker agreed today to establish a joint U. S.-Canadian Cabinet Committee on continental defense.

A statement issued by the two leaders said the new body will supplement, but not supplant, existing joint committees and boards, such as the Joint Defense Board.

The decision was reached at a final session this morning. As a result of earlier talks, the North American neighbors had agreed to cooperate on the question of trade with Red China and means of preventing a surprise attack.

Friday Eisenhower returns to Washington. He will stop at Massena, N.Y., for a look at the St. Lawrence Seaway project — another symbol of Canadian-American cooperation.

The President and Prime Minister announced that their governments will consult fully from now on in attempts to resolve, as they come up, differences arising over conflicting export policies and laws.

Such conflict exists on commerce with Communist China. The United States bans all trade with the Chinese Reds; Canada embargoes only sales of strategic goods.

The point of dispute has been application of the American embargo to Canadian subsidiaries of American firms, the Ford Motor Co. of Canada in particular. Feelers from Red China for purchase of 1,000 cars were turned down by Ford of Canada after consulting the parent company in the United States.

With Canada hit by unemployment, the matter became an issue in the Canadian election campaign last spring.

Nobody was saying whether Ford of Canada would now be allowed to sell cars to the Chinese Reds. But Eisenhower noted in his speech to Parliament Wednesday that American-controlled Canadian industries are subject to Canadian law. And after their agreement was announced, Canadian Finance Minister Donald M. Fleming passed the word that the intention is that Canadian law and Canadian law alone would prevail over persons or corporations carrying on business in Canada.

Eisenhower and Diefenbaker also agreed that experts of both countries will begin working together on a study of safeguards against surprise attack, especially across the Arctic.

Goodwin's radio message came from Goodwin's Winther, captain of the troller L.C.D., who asked that the injured be picked up at Pelican, about 85 miles west of here.

The Coast Guard asked Goodwin not to fly there because of unfavorable weather conditions. Goodwin also said that Winther told him of a tidal wave in Lituya Bay after the quake.

Dr. Don Tocher, seismologist at the University of California at Berkeley, said the quake was a major one and had its center in the Gulf of Alaska.

Dr. Charles Richter of the California Institute of Technology Seismological Laboratory at Pasadena said that had the quake occurred in a populated area it would have been a disaster.

The first severe jolt was recorded at Sitka, 100 miles southwest of here, at 10:17.38 p. m. Two sharp aftershocks followed minutes later.

The U. S. Coast and Geodetic survey in Honolulu called off an alert early today after an expected tidal wave failed to reach the Hawaiian Islands.

A "red alert" was called when reports received here that a strong earthquake in the Gulf of Alaska had generated a massive sea wave.

Otto Huff, Bremen undertaker, embalmed the body on Hughes' trailer bed, built of 2x4 boards. He said it probably would be necessary to leave the body in the trailer while it is taken to Emnden, Mo., for funeral services.

Guy B. Hughes, brother of the big man, said he would order a special coffin but it probably would be too large to be taken into the Emnden Baptist Church for the funeral. Burial will be in a cemetery at Binville, Ill. Definite times were not set immediately.

Hughes was 10 feet 2 around the waist, 40 inches around each upper arm, and 6 feet tall.

Guy, his wife, and his wife's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Demis, gave personal care to Robert Earl during his illness.

The group was in Council Chambers meeting borough officials when the above picture was taken. Later they toured Sylvania Plastics plant, United Refining Co., Warren National Bank and State Hospital. The group arrived Tuesday evening, left this morning. From left are: 1. Robert Widmer, 29, of St. Gall, Switzerland, stayed with Mr. and Mrs. Howard Gifford, 24 Maple St.; 2. Asgerd Dehle of Oslo, Norway, who stayed with Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Wheaton, 16 Crescent St.; 3. Albert Burger, 22, of Lucerne, Switzerland, also stayed with Giffords; 4. Hurst, at far right, sponsored the stay in Warren.

Damaging Quake
Strikes a Wide
Area in Alaska

JUNEAU, Alaska (AP)—A major earthquake struck a wide area of southeastern Alaska Wednesday night. Several fishing boats were reported in trouble in Lituya Bay on the Gulf of Alaska.

The Coast Guard dispatched two rescue boats to Lituya Bay about 50 miles northwest of Cape Spencer.

A Coast Guard official said one reported recovering a capsized cabin cruiser carrying four persons.

Dean Goodwin, a Juneau bush pilot, said he received a radio report that several persons had been injured but he said the report was garbled and he could not say where or how the injuries occurred.

Goodwin's radio message came from Goodwin's Winther, captain of the troller L.C.D., who asked that the injured be picked up at Pelican, about 85 miles west of here.

The Coast Guard asked Goodwin not to fly there because of unfavorable weather conditions. Goodwin also said that Winther told him of a tidal wave in Lituya Bay after the quake.

Goldfine Refuses to Divulge
Information About Checks

WASHINGTON (U)—Bernard Goldfine refused today to tell

House investigators why he issued two checks totaling $178,982.64 last year. The congressmen threatened to subpoena his books.

Chairman Oren Harris (D-Ark) of the House subcommittee hearing Goldfine for the fourth day gave the Boston industrialist a choice—either answer the question or have his books subpoenaed for committee inspection.

"On advice of counsel, I can't answer," Goldfine said. The checks in the controversy were one for $83,385.35 issued March 28, 1957, and one for $95,597.29 issued April 30, 1957, to the Yale Wool Waste Co. by one of Goldfine's textile mills, the Northfield firm.

Rep. John B. Bennett (R-Mich) said the Yale Co. was under investigation in 1957 on a mislabeling charge. He said Yale had sold some of the goods involved in the investigation to Northfield at a lower price than usual.

He demanded that Goldfine say whether the checks were issued to pay for any goods supplied to Northfield.

Goldfine said the checks were never used. He said they were deposited back into the bank by his Northfield firm. Therefore, he argued, they could not have been used for any purpose.

Bennett insisted that Goldfine say whether they were intended, when issued, to be used as a line of credit.

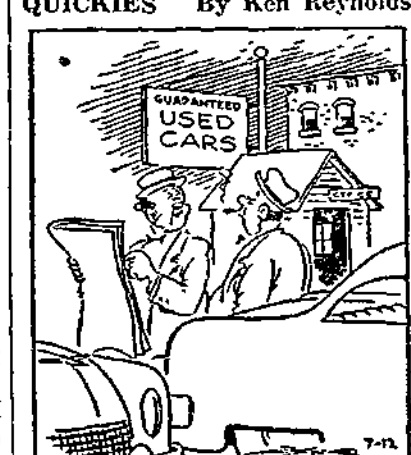

"I respectfully decline to answer," Goldfine replied. He said the question was not pertinent to the committee's investigation of Federal Trade Commission activities.

But Bennett insisted that it was pertinent. He asked Chairman Harris for a ruling.

Harris said he had no way of deciding whether the question was relevant or not if Goldfine refused to reply, and he added:

SUCCESS OF TEST STILL UNCERTAIN

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (U)

Preliminary reports today indicated that the chances are good for recovering a live mouse hurled through space in the advanced nose cone of a Thor-Able rocket Wednesday night.

The Air Force announced 15 minutes after what appeared to be a perfect launching that preliminary data showed the missile performed satisfactorily.

It still was too early to tell, however, whether the towering two-stage rocket was the first U. S. ballistic weapon to travel 6,000 miles or more through space.

The mission was to recover the nose cone and its live passenger if they survived the fiery plunge through the earth's atmosphere from outer space.

A successful test also would prove the performance of the two stages which reportedly will play a key role in three Air Force moon probes. A three-stage version of the Thor-Able probably will be used in the first lunar shot expected in a month or so.

The same Douglas Aircraft Co. team which handled Wednesday night's launching will control the first Air Force flight toward the moon.

A fleet of Air Force telemetry ships was stationed near Ascension Island off the African coast to spot the nose cone as it dropped into the depths.

Only the Snark, a jet-propelled missile that travels only at 600 m. p. h., has covered the intercontinental distance up to now. It is not a space weapon, however.

The test rocket — a Douglas Thor intermediate range missile coupled with a modified Vanguard second-stage vehicle — streaked into the starlit Florida sky with an ear-splitting roar and a flash of yellow flame.

The rocket appeared to function normally during the three minutes it was in view to press observers a mile and a half from the launching site.

If he survived the 30-minute (Turn to Page Seven)

V.F.W. Convention

PITTSBURGH (U)—Pennsylvania Veterans of Foreign Wars

Pittsburgh Mayor David L. Lawrence, Democratic candidate for governor, was listed among dignitaries attending.

State Commander William J. Tescio of Pittsburgh said the convention would be "one of the most serious and constructive the VFW has held in years."

At a pre-convention meeting Wednesday, the VFW Council of Administration adopted a resolution calling for the expulsion of Soviet correspondents covering Congress.

The resolution stated that Russian reporters violate congressional press gallery rules.

The resolution also called for the removal of any Russian correspondent in Washington or the United Nations "who deliberately distorts American news to serve the purposes of the Kremlin's propaganda policy."

Senate Passes Omnibus Bill
Including Reservoir Fund

WASHINGTON (U)—Sen. Joseph

S. Clark (D-Pa) has secured the promise of Senate leaders to work for the allocation of federal funds for rehabilitation of flood control dikes at Wilkes-Barre, Pa.

The dikes were damaged by coal mine subsidence.

Clark raised the point after the Senate passed an omnibus flood control and navigation bill Wednesday. No specific appropriation was made for the Wilkes-Barre project.

Sen. Dennis Chavez (D-NM) and Sen. Allen J. Ellender (D-La) promised Clark they would look into the possibility of including the Wilkes-Barre funds in an emergency fund provided for operation and maintenance of such projects. Sen. Chavez is chairman of the Senate Public Works Committee, while Ellender heads the appropriations committee's subcommittee on public works.

Pennsylvania projects included in the Senate-passed bill:

Kinzua Dam and Reservoir, $1,000,000; Allentown, $700,000; Bradford, $2,750,000.

Army Engineering planning funds:

Brookville, $35,000; Chartiers Creek, near Washington, Pa., $25,000; St. Rys, $20,000; Tyron, $60,000; Curwensville Reservoir, $175,000; Maxwell locks and dam, $275,000; Shenango River Reservoir, $100,000.

Monthly Meeting Of JC's Tonight An Important One

The regular monthly meeting of the Warren Jaycees will be held tonight in the Jaycee rooms at 8 p. m. Highlight of the meeting will be the first visit of the Regional Vice-President, Bob Shenkle, from Grove City. Mr. Shenkle was elected at the recent convention held in Pittsburgh, and a good turnout is requested to welcome the new officer.

With the 4th of July completed successfully, Jaycees will hear reports from its General Chairman, Lennie Johnson, and begin considering other projects which the active local group is undertaking. Chief among these will be a report from Harry Spackman on the Soap Box Derby, to be held this Saturday. Reports will also be heard on Junior Tennis, the Hole-in-One Tournament, to be held in August; the State Board Meeting, to be held in Lancaster on July 19-20; and final reports will be given on Junior Golf and the Clyde Beatty Circus.

House Chairman John Evans has promised that refreshments will be served, and all Jaycees are asked to be on hand for this important summer meeting.

Census to Collect Facts on 'Second' Jobs of Employed

Special questions, designed to provide information on the number of persons who have more than one job, will be asked in the July Current Population Survey, it was announced today by Supervisor Joseph S. Marlow of the Census Bureau's regional office at Pittsburgh, Penna. which will participate in the survey.

Similar questions asked in the Current Population Survey last year revealed that about one in fifteen (7 percent) of employed men and one in forty (2½ percent) of employed women held two jobs during the week ending July 13, 1957, the period covered by the survey. Together these multiple jobholders comprised five percent of all employed persons during the survey week. Their estimated total number was 3½ million. The group designated as multiple jobholders included wage and salary workers with more than one employer during the survey week, as well as persons on the payroll of an employer and also self-employed or those holding a paid job and also working without pay in a family enterprise.

The largest single category of multiple jobholders consisted of about 1.6 million persons who worked for wages or salaries in nonfarm industries on both primary and secondary jobs. Another 600,000 persons combined non-farm wage or salary work with some form of nonfarm employment. An estimated 900,000 persons, or about one-fourth of all multiple jobholders, were self-employed farmers on either their primary or secondary jobs.

The special questions on secondary jobs will be in addition to the regular monthly inquiries on employment and unemployment. Current Population

Cornplanter Drum & Bugle Corps Continues Undeclared

Cornplanter Drum and Bugle Corps proved again last night that it was the best in NY-Penn district competition by beating all comers in a standstill competition at Forestville, N. Y.

Among those present were the Flying Dutchmen (Hose No. 1) of Dunkirk, N. Y., who placed second, Murray Hose No. 4 who held down third place. The Vikings from Jamestown, N. Y. moved into fourth position and in fifth place were Gowanda Red Devils.

It may be pointed out that the Cornplanters have been very successful in standstill contests. Up to this point they have placed first in every competition they have entered.

Although the rooters from Warren have been few and far between in all their appearances, and the same situation existed last night, the Cornplanters received a tremendous ovation from the spectators when they appeared on field. With colors flying in front, and white striped trousers flashing in an evening sun, the Cornplanters marched down the field and moved into concert formation. After playing a number of selections, they pinwheelled and moved away from the reviewing stand and off the field.

Again, as in all standstill contests, all participating Corps moved back on the field for Retreat. Spectators had a beautiful sight, to see five drum corps standing side by side at parade rest just as the last rays of evening sun splashed over the field, casting a glow over plumes fluttering in the breeze.

This Saturday night the Cornplanters are traveling to Snykersville, N. Y. to compete in a parade which will move at 7 p. m. Bus leaves legion home at 3 p. m.

Attendance at Chapman Dam Reaches 86,000

Attendance at Chapman Dam State Park this summer has reached approximately 86,000 to date, according to figures compiled by John T. Rodgers, park superintendent.

June attendance was about 50,000, but fine July weather has already brought the number of visitors this month to 36,383, according to Rodgers.

Biggest day at the park was Sunday, July 6, when a count showed 13,371 persons had come to Chapman Dam. Crowd on July 4th was estimated at 11,686. Yesterday (first balmy day since Sunday) a crowd of 1,916 swarmed over the grounds. Nice weather has brought an average of 2,000 persons to the park on each sunny July day so far.

If warm weather remains during the summer, a quarter of a million persons could avail themselves of park facilities, according to estimates. Last year, 130,000 visited the park. An extensive renovation and improvement program over the past year has brought a bathing beach and additional picnicking facilities (about 270 tables) to Chapman Dam.

Survey information will be collected locally during the week of July 14.

Soviet Scientists Explore Death and Revival Mystery

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
NEW YORK (AP) Soviet scientists, in an extraordinary comprehensive way, are "exploring the problems of death and revival," an American doctor recently returned from Moscow said today.

Dr. Jean Henley of Columbia University medical center said she knew of no comparable program in this country.

She said in an interview that the Soviets are carrying on highly systematized research into the complex bodily changes that occur at death — and seeking means for combating them to restore life.

"They're studying every imaginable thing that happens, from every physiological standpoint," she said. Biochemists, neuro-anatomists, neuro-pathologists and others are all coordinating their skills on the problem, she said.

Dr. Henley, who toured Soviet medical institutions with five other American women scientists, said she watched a Soviet experiment in which a dog, drained of blood and dead for five minutes, was brought back to life.

"It was a very impressive experiment," she said. "But I don't think it was world-shaking." She said she thought similar work has been done in the United States—although three minutes is considered here to be the longest period of death from which normal brain recovery can be expected. An American Heart Assn. spokesman said he knew of no identical experiments with like results.

NEW YORK (AP)—The summer has brought a deluge of television games.

Now comes a program that claims a sixth sense is a necessity. It's the new ESP (for Extra-Sensory Perception) Show, which bows Friday night on ABC-TV. It will pit people with high degrees of purported ESP against one another in matches to see which contestant (while blindfolded) can most often properly identify unseen cards and symbols, and call the roll of dice.

There will be the usual isolation booth, and the weekly winner will earn cash and the chance to continue on the show until defeated by someone with either greater mysterious powers or more luck. Each week five cards will be pulled from a 52-card deck and displayed face down. Home viewers can write in what they think the cards were, in the order they were pulled.

If they get everything right they win $100,000.

George Wolf is a firm believer in ESP, he doesn't expect to have a home audience winner every week.

How will studio contestants be selected? "Leading parapsychologists in the country have recommended outstanding subjects to us," said Wolf, "and several persons who have volunteered to be tested. We are screening them with one of the most simple of ESP devices—a deck of 13 cards."

"The subject is blindfolded. The cards—ace through king with no suit—are shuffled, and three of them are picked at random and placed face up on a table. The subject then says what he thinks the three cards are, but is not required to give them in any particular order. This is done six times, which means a subject can correctly name a maximum of 18 cards. To insure against a subject's being lucky on one day—or having a bad day because of something he ate for lunch—this time test is repeated on six different days. Those who score the

Admittance of Alaska Will Alter Geographic US Heart

By FRANK CAREY
Associated Press Science Writer
WASHINGTON (AP)—If Alaska comes in as the 49th state, the geographic heart of the United States may no longer be in the United States at all.

It may be in southwestern Canada—or even in the Pacific Ocean, somewhere off the coast of Washington state.

These were preliminary guesses today of officials of the U.S. Geological Survey and the U.S. Coast and Geodetic Survey.

Present position of the center is somewhere near Lebanon, Kan. The geographic center is defined as "the point at which the United States would balance if it were all the same thickness and were suspended on a pinpoint." One way of figuring it is simply to take a map of the United States, paste it on a cardboard and then find the center of gravity by placing your map on a pinpoint.

Sounds easy, but Alaska presents complications for such a stunt, because there is no continuous land connection between Alaska and the rest of the United States. A portion of Canada pops up in between.

A government expert told a reporter one conceivable way of finding the geographic center of a United States with Alaska would be to attach the Alaskan area to your U.S. map by means of a light, aluminum wire and then do your balancing.

Scientists Making Chocolate Candy for African Baboons

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP)—Scientists here were making chocolate candy today for a bunch of baboons in Africa.

A drug was being mixed in 100 pounds of chocolate at the Southwest Foundation for Research and Education.

If the baboons go for the chocolate, the drug will free them of simian malaria in a couple of weeks. Then they will be flown from Africa to San Antonio for heart research.

The scientists are doing research on atherosclerosis, the disease in which fatty deposits form in blood vessels.

They say the baboon is the only known animal which develops such deposits as does man. But the baboon is a vegetarian and consumes little animal fats. This indicates the importance of studying other factors rather than diet alone.

The baboon tissue will make it possible to compare the progress of the disease in animals with that in humans. The goal is to produce a predictable animal which can be used to test agents which may control the disease.

Army Plan To Cut National Guard 40 000 Men Opposed

WASHINGTON (AP)—A National Guard leader predicts a cool reception for a compromise Army plan to cut Guard strength by an estimated 40,000 men.

Maj. Gen. Maxwell E. Rich, president of the Adjutants General Assn., said Tuesday night he doubts that the plan announced Tuesday by the Army will be acceptable to the National Guard.

The Army said the new plan was worked out after months of discussions with state governors and their National Guard leaders.

Rich, adjutant general of Utah and current president of the organization of state Guard chiefs, said in a statement that a special meeting of adjutants generals has been called for July 14-15 to study the plan.

Under the compromise announced by Secretary of the Army Wilber M. Brucker, all 27 Guard divisions will be retained but reorganized along atomic age patterns—16 of them at reduced strength.

The Army didn't specify completely how the manpower cuts will be made, saying it will be up to the states to work it out.

BOUQUET FOR JAYCEES
Congressman Leon H. Gavin, Oil City, who was one of the special guests of the Jaycees for the Independence Day parade last Friday writes the following richly deserved note of commendation and praise for the organization officers and committees:
Washington, D. C., July 8, 1958
WARREN TIMES-MIRROR

"Dear Editor:
"My sincere congratulations on the tremendous success of the Fourth of July Celebration. In my opinion it was the biggest, best, and most outstanding celebration that you have ever had.
"The Warren Jay-Cees turned in a fine performance of which they can well be proud. I was most pleased to be invited to participate.
"It is events of this nature that evidence Warren as being one of the progressive communities in the western part of the State.
"Everyone, I know, had a most enjoyable time. Please compliment the Warren Jay-Cees on the tremendous success of this celebration as a result of their efforts.
"With my very kind personal regards, Sincerely yours, L. H. GAVIN"

HOOVER'S HAPPY REUNION
There was a double fitness in the appearance of former President Herbert Hoover at the Brussels World's Fair. As the eldest of our two living ex-presidents, he was the logical choice to represent and speak for this country on the special day set aside for the United States at the exposition.
Secondly, Mr. Hoover has a special affinity for Belgium, and the Belgians for him, as result of his memorable relief services at the time of World War I.
That Belgium's affection for Mr. Hoover has not waned with the passing years was eminently clear from the fact that they chose to honor him with a "Hoover Day" observed throughout the nation.
Plainly the reunion of Mr. Hoover and the Belgian people was a happy occasion.
As of today noon those in charge of Warren's annual Soap Box Derby scheduled to be run Saturday afternoon on McPherson Downs, report everything in readiness. Advance forecasts give reason to expect favorable weather.

An important ceremony is taking place at Warren State Hospital this afternoon when 14 new Psychiatric Technicians will receive diplomas. Our congratulations and best wishes!

WASHINGTON (AP) — The recession-hit economy will get a bigger boost from Uncle Sam in the next 12 months than the federal budget indicates.
The budget, according to expert estimates, will be 10 to 12 billion dollars in the red for the 1959 fiscal year that began July 1.
That much deficit spending — spending of borrowed money, in effect — can add a good bit of zip to the business outlook. But that's only part of the deficit story.
Uncle Sam keeps still another set of books, and government experts are now guessing that these will show a deficit one to two billion dollars bigger than that in the regular budget.
The second set of books is kept on a cash flow basis. That is, it records the amount of money the government receives from the public, balanced against federal payments to the public.
Economists say cash flow is a good measure of the impact of federal financial operations on the income of the public as a whole.
For example, if the cash figures show a 12-billion-dollar deficit in the current fiscal year, the government in effect will be adding roughly this amount to the public income.
A fiscal transfusion on that scale would prove a potent prop

Here and There
What do Soap Box Derby drivers look forward to other than the actual race? Well, the following may give the reader sort of a mental picture of the excitement that is in store for the forty-odd boys, their sponsors, parents, guardians, race officials, press, radio and public generally: The wonderful, exciting Awards Banquet, which follows the strenuous day's activity... and which is held annually at Beatty Cafeteria beginning at 7:00 p. m. for every entrant and his parents, relatives, and friends. The dinner is the first project of new Jaycee Auxiliary president, Mrs. John Stachowiak, with chairman, Mrs. Jack Lesser, and a great number of Jaycee wives and Auxiliary members serving and doing kitchen duty. The dinner consists of meat loaf, scalloped potatoes, vegetable, molded salad, rolls and butter, ice cream and cake. Following this sumptuous repast, the Awards program is opened by Derby Director Harry Spackman, with the invocation given by the Rev. Bruce Ryan of Trinity Episcopal church. Guests will include Times-Mirror editor, Ed Lowrey, a co-sponsor; Dan Dodge, co-sponsor; Mike Evan, Chief of Police; Frank Burgett, '57 Warren Champ; the complete Jaycee committee in charge of the Derby; and various local newsmen. Gerald Archibald, representative from National Forge and Ordnance, will present the first place trophy to the WIN-NAH! And second place trophies given by Sylvania Electric Products, and Warren TV Corporation will be presented by Jaycee Awards and Trophy Chairman, Jack Lesser. When the general merchandise awards are presented, a group of Jaycees will make these presentations to the rightful winners. Of course, as is the custom, the '57 Champ gives the new Derby winner the traditional Bible, a symbol of Good Luck, to carry with him to the National. And this year, the guest speaker for the Awards Banquet is Clifford Betts, of Betts Machine Company, whose extensive youth background makes him a natural to address this energetic group of boys. Mr. Betts has long been interested in the boys of Warren County, having backed the famous Warren Boy Choir since its conception. He currently serves as President of the Chief Cornplanter Council of Boy Scouts, but admits that the Hot Stove League is his pet. Betts Machine sponsors a team of little leaguers, and Mr. Betts wholeheartedly supports the youth of our County. Adding to his list of boy events, Betts happily accepted the invitation to speak to the field of Derby contestants, encouraging them to build, and use their hands and minds. Each boy, win or lose, really emerges a champion in his own right, for he has learned patience, skill in building, and above all, good sportsmanship. The Awards Banquet is comparable to the wonderful Banquet of Champions held annually in Akron, Ohio, when the 150 champions from all over the United States, Canada, the Philippines, Puerto Rico, West Germany, and Alaska gather to witness the winner, and first five runners-up, receive their prizes. This is the 21st year for the All-American Soap Box Derby, and the third annual event for Warren County. Grand champion wins the beautiful T. H. Keating Award, presented by General Motors Division of Chevrolet, and a $5,000 college scholarship.

After Slow Start, Congress Presses for a Fast Finish
BY PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent
WASHINGTON—(NEA)—This session of Congress may well go down in history as "the year of humane slaughter."
The reference won't be to what congressional committees did to Sherman Adams or Jimmy Hoffa or the Federal Communications and other government agencies.
The tag won't even be applied for what the Latin Americans tried to do to Vice President Nixon or what the Democrats claim they are going to do to the Republicans in the coming congressional elections.
All might be appropriate. But what will make the label fit will be passage—after years of effort—of a bill requiring humane killing of livestock in slaughter houses. The bill passed the House early. It is still hung up in the Senate. But ultimate passage is assured.
More congressmen got more mail on this subject than on any other all year. Pressure has been terrific.
BY SOME QUIRK of human nature, more people thought it important to write their congressmen in favor of humane slaughter than about banning the atomic bomb, conquest of the moon, ending the recession, cutting taxes, extending trade agreements, Pentagon reorganization, labor legislation, aid to education, what to do about the Russians, foreign aid or the confused situations in Lebanon, Hungary or Cuba.
The next six weeks or so will tell the story on how these really important matters get taken care of, or not.
After an exceedingly slow start in the first four months of this session, when considerable politics was being played, Congress really got down to work.
The legislative situation as Congress came back to work after the July 4 weekend is this: The Senate had acted with dispatch on some measures on which the House had dragged its heels, and vice versa.
THE HOUSE SHOWED speed in completing action on all appropriation bills except foreign aid before the new fiscal year began July 1. But in spite of big cuts in foreign aid and agriculture for 1959, total appropriations will cut President Eisenhower's budget only slightly.
The Senate, which has completed action on only eight of the 14 new money bills, may revise this other way.
The House was first to complete action on trade agreements extension, Pentagon reorganization and the great humane slaughter bill.
On the other hand, the Senate is ahead on its consideration of labor legislation, union funding disclosure, farm legislation, surplus commodity disposal, aid for depressed areas and a new metals subsidy program.
Majority Leader Lyndon Johnson wants the Senate to act on a new omnibus housing bill and a new 1.5-billion-dollar rivers and harbors bill to replace the one he vetoed.
BOTH HOUSES STILL have to make up their minds what, if anything, they will do this year about aid to education, social security expansion, Hawaii statehood and new immigration legislation.
Two Eisenhower recommendations which now seem definitely doomed are provision for presidential succession and a broad shift of federal responsibilities to state and local governments.
If the President can get through all appropriations close to his 3.9-billion-dollar request, he can consider the record of this Congress good.

Business Mirror
By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP)—Those who hold that the economy can and will heal its own recession wounds without direct government curative have some reassuring figures today to back them up.
Factory employment rose in June after slipping for 18 months. The factory work week lengthened in May and June for the largest two-month gain since the war. And this helped boost the average weekly wage in manufacturing industries by $1.27 to a record high of $83.10.
But another current improvement is traced to government action last March aimed at easing the slump in home building. Mortgage terms were changed to stimulate that industry and money for such projects was made easier to come by.
As a direct result perhaps, the Federal Housing Administration reports that mortgage insurance applications rose in both May and June, foreshadowing greater building activity ahead. The Veterans Administration reports increased requests for appraisals and GI mortgages.
This can be cited by those who think the government should manipulate the economy in its own best interests.
Debate between these conflicting points of view has slackened a bit since Congress accepted the administration stand that the slump was leveling off. But will the truce hold during the summer lull when the figures may be far less reassuring?
And if recovery doesn't come as fast as some predict, if the fall pickup is weaker than expected and the fourth quarter doesn't live up to advance billing as the start of a new boom, the clamor for new government measures may revive fast.
This is what the economist of the Guaranty Trust Co. of New York fear. In their July survey they see little "hope that public opinion as a whole has awakened from the dream of perpetual boom under governmental auspices."
Like many in the banking fraternity they hold that government shot-in-the-arm measures tend to do business more harm than good in the long run.
"If business is now on the high road to recovery, as the optimists hope, there is obviously no need for politically administered stimulants," the Guaranty survey holds.
"Spontaneous recovery is the only true recovery."

Seek New Breed of Man for Journey Into Outer Space

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Space scientists are weighing the idea of trying to breed a special type of man or animal who could breathe water or gas instead of air.
In the place of lungs he might have gills like a fish. Or he might have lungs which could be filled temporarily with water and be converted back to air breathing later.
Even some kind of breathing organ which would enable him to stay alive in an atmosphere of ammonia or methane gas is an item for consideration.
These far-reaching possibilities were brought out today by Dr. Blaine Levendahl, zoologist from the University of California at Los Angeles. He talked to a reporter after addressing the Institute of Aeronautical sciences.
To produce a creature like this, scientists would have to speed up enormously the process of evolution. Dr. Levendahl made no specific suggestions as to how it should be undertaken. He expressed the belief, however, that researchers already have the means to make a start in that direction.
Births during the Mayflower's historic voyage in 1620 raised its passenger list total from 102 to 104.

MR. AND MRS. FREDERICK GLOTZ

Holy Redeemer church was the scene, June 14 of a double ring ceremony which united in marriage Marie Hackman and Frederick Glotz. The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Julia Wedlock of 12 South Carver street, Warren, and Mike Hackman of Erie; the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Carl Glotz, 105 Main street, Russell.

Father Robert Cohan performed the ceremony at 10:00 a. m.; Mrs. Thomas Donnelly was at the organ; Joseph Guifre was vocalist.

Presented in marriage by her brother, Robert Hackman, the bride wore floor length white rosepoint lace and tulle over satin, the bouffant skirt having front and back panels of lace and tiered tulle, the fitted bodice featuring a jewel-adorned neckline and long fitted sleeves. Her fingertip veil of imported illusion was arranged from a sequin and seed pearl plateau of matching lace and her cascade bouquet of white roses and carnations was accented with ivory sprays. Her pearl ear-rings and necklace were the bridegroom's gift.

Norma Hackman, maid of honor for her sister, wore Nile green lace over taffeta, ballerina length, and carried a cascade of yellow carnations, lavender bride is employed in the accounting department at Hammond Iron Works; the bridegroom, at Warren State Hospital.

Hostesses honoring the bride-elect were Mrs. Robert Hackman; Mrs. James Newton; Mrs. Harry Glotz; and girls from her department at Hammond's.

PIANO STUDENTS HEARD IN RECITAL
YOUNGSMEN—Mrs. Darrell Pierce presented the majority of her piano pupils in recital for an appreciative audience of parents and friends in the Methodist church. Taking part were the following:

After the first part of the program, a song was given by a trio consisting of Diane Kay, Diana Williams and Holly Williams, accompanied by Nancy Pierce. Also enjoyed was a piano and organ duet by Janet Ahlquist and Nancy Pierce, and the former brought the program to a close with playing of "God of Our Fathers".

DEADLINE FOR GOLDEN AGE CALLS

All Golden Age Society members who wish bus transportation to the picnic at Wilder Field at Irvine next Tuesday should remember that Friday is the deadline for making reservations with Mrs. Louise Hubbard, 1959-W. On The Spot News of Petersons-Plummers

A letter dated from the Hotel Lotti in Paris, France, brings news of Mr. and Mrs. Freeman O. Peterson, 15 Hertzel street, off on a European jaunt with the Fred L. Plummers of Stamford, Conn., formerly of Warren.

The Petersons flew from New York to Brussels on a Sabena DC-7C June 20 after a short visit with the Plummers in Stamford. The two couples went on to Vienna after spending three days at the Brussels Exposition and several days in Paris.

Special events in Vienna, where Mr. Plummer participated in an international meeting of engineers, included a performance of the opera "Tosca" at the State Opera House; a gala concert of the famed Vienna Boys' Choir; a reception given by the Mayor of the City.

Also a performance of the world-renowned Spanish Riding School; a reception by the president of the Federal Chamber of Trade and Economy at Pallavicini Palace; a Viennese Ball in evening dress, with full decorations; an informal evening at the Heurigen, in Grinzing.

Among other events enjoyed were a tea and special fashion show; lunch in the Vienna Woods; and excursions to the Wachau valley, Semmering, the Neusiedler See, Schonbrunn Castle, and other interesting spots in and near Vienna.

After leaving the capital city, the two couples are touring southern and western Austria before flying to Stockholm to visit the Scandinavian Countries. In addition to stops in Stockholm, Oslo, Bergen and Copenhagen, they will tour the fjords of Norway.

Their later schedule calls for flying from Copenhagen to New York, via the Scandinavian Airways System, with arrival in New York July 31 and back to Warren on August 2.

MR. AND MRS. JOHN ZABRODSKY

The marriage of Nancy G. Toscano, sister of Mrs. Leo E. Minnelli of 22 Morrison street, to John Zabrodsky, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Zabrodsky, Sheffield, was solemnized June 28.

The nuptial mass and double ring ceremony took place at 10:00 a. m. in St. Michael's Greek Catholic church in Sheffield, the Rev. Theo. Rudy officiating in an altar setting of baskets of gladioli and carnations.

Given in marriage by her brother-in-law, Mr. Minnelli, the bride was lovely in floor length white net over satin, with seed pearl trim at the sabrina neckline, and lace insets in the bouffant skirt. Her fingertip veil of French illusion was attached to a crown of seed pearls and her bouquet was fashioned of white roses.

Her only attendant was her sister, Cecelia Reilly, as matron of honor. She wore yellow taffeta over silk, with matching yellow hat, and carried white carnations with green accents.

Don Federko, Ludlow, was best man, ushers were Vincent Toscano and Andy Zabrodsky, brothers of the principals.

For her sister's wedding, Mrs. Minnelli chose blue silk, white accessories, and a white rose corsage. Mrs. Zabrodsky selected a blue silk print, also with white accessories and white roses.

Following the ceremony, a wedding breakfast was served to 50 guests in the church basement. A reception for 150 guests was held at Marconi Outing Club, after which the couple left for a honeymoon trip through the New England States.

Out of town guests were present from Syracuse and Jamestown, N. Y.; Chester, Pittsburgh and Sheffield.

Returning home, the newlyweds are at home to friends at 326 Water street.

American Legion Auxiliary Looks To the Future at Busy Gathering

Members of Chief Complanter Unit 135, American Legion Auxiliary, held their regular meeting Tuesday evening at the American Legion Home. Preceding the business session, the picnic originally planned on the lawn was held in the main dining room.

Guests were Miss Linda Jill Whitehill, and her mother, Miss Linda represented the Auxiliary at Keystone Girls' Camp at Shippensburg State Teachers' College in June and gave a very interesting account of her week there.

She outlined the daily schedule of activities at camp, the classes held, and explained the purpose of this annual session. She thanked the Auxiliary for the privilege of attending and praised those members who act as leaders at the camp.

It was pointed out that Chief Complanter Unit is entitled to five delegates at the annual convention in Philadelphia July 23-26. Mrs. Gerda Carlson was chosen, with Mrs. Mary A'Hara as alternate, to serve with those previously named: Miss Florence Hill, Miss Medna Cannon, Mrs. Mary Ann Buerkle and Mrs. Emma Kiernan. Alternates named earlier were Mrs. Hazel Witz, Mrs. Violet Ahlquist, Mrs. Leona Albaugh and Mrs. Billie McDannel.

Attention was drawn to the fact that, as of July 1, 1958, 950,000 members have been enrolled in the American Legion Auxiliary, and the goal set for 1958 is one million. The local unit has 356 members, a figure 14 short of its quota.

Under the legislative program of the Legion and Auxiliary, enactment of legislation to provide pensions for widows and orphans of World War II and Korean veterans is a major project this year. Several bills to provide this protection have been introduced in the present Congress, but have not come up for action. If Congress takes no action before adjournment, Auxiliary members have expressed the hope these bills will be brought up early in the next session.

A special vote of thanks was taken at the Legion Home, for taken at the Legion Home, for clearing of the ceiling and oil paintings on the walls of the dining room.

All were reminded the next meeting will be held August 12, with installation of officers planned for September 23.

The Bogrens are spending some time in the east with relatives and old friends. Mrs. Bogren will be remembered as the former Doris Kidder, who was graduated from Warren High School and was a member of its faculty for a time.

SOCIETY

New Minister Honored

Members and friends numbering almost 200 gathered in Fellowship Hall of Grace Methodist church last evening to extend a cordial welcome to the new pastor, the Rev. Ralph S. Findley, along with his wife and son, Wally.

Held during the midweek prayer hour, the program opened with the appropriate hymn, "We Gather Together to Ask the Lord's Blessing". Rev. Findley conducted a brief devotional period, with thoughts from II Timothy. He challenged everyone to make Christ the center of his life and to "Study to show thyself approved unto God".

Nancy Reynolds played a piano number, and Kenneth Foreman, accompanied by Richard Pratt, sang "Follow the Glean".

Robert R. Young spoke in behalf of the congregation and welcomed the Findleys to Grace Methodist parish. He pledged support of the membership and reminded all present that "together with God, great things can be done." Rev. Findley responded and, in turn, pledged his service.

Mrs. Paul J. Reynolds presented an arm bouquet of red roses to Mrs. Findley as a token of friendship, and wished her happiness in her new home. Mrs. Findley replied in a gracious manner, thanking all for the many kindnesses already shown them.

A pleasant social hour followed, with the Dorcas Society in charge of arrangements. The tea table was beautifully centered with multicolored roses and delphinium, pink and white appointments. Mrs. Oliver Kyles presided at the punch bowl.

Each one in turn welcomed the Findleys and wished them God's blessing in their work at Grace church and in the community of Warren.

Educational Official Says Code Restricting Teachers

By RICHARD L. GRAVES

HARRISBURG (AP) — A state education official indicated today that school code restrictions are barring some top-flight educators from state teacher college faculties.

Dr. George A. Hoffman, deputy superintendent of public instruction, said there is no question that the commonwealth's 14 teacher colleges have missed getting some able professors because of the restrictions.

However, he said, there is a trend toward liberalizing the legislature-imposed restrictions to allow the colleges to determine their own requirements.

The main restriction is one requiring any faculty member of a state teacher college to have at least two years experience teaching in public secondary or primary schools.

The net effect of the requirement has been to stop many college teachers, regardless of their other qualifications, from seeking posts on teacher college faculties within the two years of public school experience.

"The argument in favor of the restriction is that teacher colleges are designed primarily for preparing teachers," said Hoffman. "It has been the feeling that faculty members should have some experience in public schools."

Dr. Carl E. Seifert, also a deputy superintendent of public instruction, agreed that the restriction occasionally costs the teacher colleges a top instructor, but contended that the requirements "are set up, basically, for the protection of the public."

Hoffman added that debate on the requirement has centered on whether actual public school teaching experience is vital in giving college-level instruction to teacher candidates. Opponents of the restriction argue that the emphasis should be on subject matter, not technique.

Financial Crisis in Life of The Future King of Britain

By EDDY GILMORE

LONDON — Britain's future king has suffered an inglorious reverse in a big deal to straighten out his shaky finances at the school candy shop.

This financial crisis in the life of 9-year-old Prince Charles took place at Chesham, his boarding school in nearby Berkshire.

His mother, Queen Elizabeth II, allows the heir to the throne 20 shillings—$2.80—spending money each three-month term.

Like the other boys, the king-to-be keeps it at what is called the bank in the candy shop.

With three weeks left in the term, Charles discovered he had no money left in the bank. So he staged a sale of some of his belongings.

Aware that there was an excellent opportunity to buy royal souvenirs cheap, other schoolboys flocked to Charles' sale.

Delighted with the result, the bonny Charles visited the candy

Cancer Victim Is Calling for Son Missing Over Year

JERSEY CITY, N.J. (AP) — John Wersinger Sr. is waiting for his son.

He doesn't have long to wait. The 64-year-old man is dying of cancer, and he knows it. Four of his sons, a daughter and 10 grandchildren have gathered about Wersinger in his home here.

But one son is missing. John Wersinger Jr., 35, left Jersey City a year ago to work as a civilian guard at a military establishment in El Paso, Tex. He wrote his mother last month that he was giving up the job, and his parents have not heard from him since.

Wersinger's family appealed to newspapers to publish the story in the hope that John will read it and return home.

But he wasn't allowed to make any purchases. Miss Margaret Cowlishall, in charge of the shop, knew that he had exhausted his candy funds. So no sale.

He had to return the money. In sending Charles to school with other boys, the Queen and Prince Philip insisted that he be treated the same as any other student.

Mighells-Crooks Rite At Corydon Nazarene

CORYDON — Edith Naomi Crooks, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Crooks of Corydon, became the bride of Clarence Mighells of South Valley, son of Mrs. Joseph Hays and the late Clarence Mighells, in a ceremony performed by the Rev. Viola Burch before a gathering of families and close friends. The rites took place in the Church of the Nazarene, where decorations included tall vases of white carnations, with lighted tapers, and palms.

Maid of honor was the bride's cousin, Geraldine Crooks of Bradford, wearing aqua silk chiffon over satin. As flower girl for her aunt, Barbara Crooks was gown in white embroidered nylon. Tom Kenworthy of Warren, nephew of the bride, was the ring bearer.

Robert Mighells was best man for his brother; ushers were Charles Crooks and George Taft.

The bride was escorted by her father and was gown in waltz length white satin and chiffon. An embroidered lace hat held her veil of silk illusion, and her bouquet of gypsophelia and white carnations was showered with yellow streamers.

The bride's mother favored navy blue crepe, the bridegroom's mother chose a gray silk print, each with a corsage of pink carnations.

Following the ceremony, about 100 guests were received in the parlors of IOOF Hall, where the bride's table was centered with a tiered cake and lighted pink candles. Aides were Mrs. Joseph Black, Emogene Crooks, Mrs. David Counts and Thelma Crooks.

The newlyweds left later for a Virginia honeymoon, for which the bride chose a pink and white silk dress and white accessories.

Returning, the couple will live in Frewsburg road, RD 1. The bride attended Corydon schools and has been employed in Bradford. The bridegroom served with the Army through the Korean conflict and is employed by Chautauqua Hardware Company.

Tan Trapped on Tiny Ledge Three Days in Good Shape

ALAMOSA, Colo. (AP) — The terrible ordeal was over, but risky John L. Sanders shook his head at doctors.

Sleep, he said, was the last thing he wanted. He was too tired.

Sanders, 35, had been rescued a few hours earlier Wednesday on the tiny ledge on a canyon all where he had spent five days and nights. During the first 48 hours, he slept not at all for fear he would fall 300 feet as his friend and fishing partner had done last Friday.

William E. Garver, 38, auditor at the University of New Mexico, died in the plunge down the face of Conejos Canyon northwest of here. His body was recovered Tuesday.

Sanders, an Albuquerque businessman, clung to his three-by-four-foot rock shelf, alternately shouting and praying, for three days. He was spotted Monday, given his first food Tuesday, rescued by Army mountaineers shortly after noon Wednesday.

They lowered him by litter to the base of the 800-foot rock wall. From there, the 6-foot, 200-pound man walked three miles and rode a horse another mile to a waiting ambulance and his wife Carolyn. Sanders was taken to Alamosa Community Hospital, where physicians said he survived the ordeal in surprisingly good condition.

Speedy Planes Push Radio Signals From Frequencies

By RENNIE TAYLOR
LOS ANGELES (AP) — Some planes now can go fast enough to push radio signals out of their allotted frequency channels, says an electronics expert.

This can mean danger for men in supersonic aircraft because it reduces or in some cases can prevent effective communication during fleeting moments when warnings or other information are vital, he said.

The best way out of the problem, the specialist said, is to establish artificial radio relay stations in satellites thousands of miles above the earth.

The expert, R. W. Parkinson, of the Ramo-Woolridge Corp., Los Angeles, described the problem in an address prepared for delivery today at the Institute of Aeronautical Sciences, Ramo-Woolridge is a research organization holding extensive government contracts.

Two planes closing in on each other and each traveling at 2½ times the speed of sound get a speedup in their commonly used voice communication band, Parkinson said. After they pass each other the frequency is slowed down by the same amount.

The effect is basically the same as the rising and falling notes of a train whistle or an automobile horn when a car on a highway passes a train going in the opposite direction. Scientifically it is called the Doppler effect.

This variation may crowd the signal clear out of the band to which it is allotted, Parkinson declared. Unless the receiving plane retunes its set to compensate for this, it may get only part of the message or may miss it entirely.

Harris said "a lot of things could be done to clear the air." One of them, he added, would be a look at Goldfine's books to see how he treated the checks, so the investigators could determine why the checks were issued, even though not used.

Harris chided Goldfine for what he called "a ridiculous attitude" in refusing to answer committee questions on grounds it was none of the committee's business.

He said it was a "lack of co-operation . . . and an unreasonable attitude to take."

The Congress members have some doubt in their own minds as to how far they can pursue the matter of $777,000 in checks, some as old as 1941, that were still outstanding on Pilgrim Trust Co. Boston records as of May 7. They have ordered a legal study of the point.

Subcommittee counsel Robert W. Lishman has been asked to study Supreme Court opinions on what congressmen may and may not properly ask.

The court in one major opinion on that point a year ago ruled that a committee must show the witness that its questions are pertinent to the inquiry. That opinion, which set aside a contempt of Congress conviction, quoted another opinion that a congressional investigation into individual affairs "is valid if unrelated to any legislative purpose."

Goldfine, limiting the extent to which he would answer questions Wednesday about his business affairs, contended many queries were not pertinent.

Expressing interest in more study of the question of pertinency were Reps. John Bell Williams (D-Miss.), John E. Moss (D-Calif.), John B. Bennett (R-Mich.) and Peter F. Mack (D-Ill.).

Questioners were trying to show that the gift-giving Goldfine got favored federal treatment through his friendship with President Eisenhower's top aide Sherman Adams. Both Goldfine, a Boston textile and real estate millionaire, and Adams have steadfastly denied the charge.

trip, the tiny white mouse would be a prize patient for researchers studying the problems of manned space flight.

The mouse was nicknamed "Mia II" for "Mouse in Able."

The original "Mia" died when the first Thor-Able rocket became lost in space and apparently plunged into the Atlantic last April 23.

Rocket experts believe that the intermediate range re-entry problem was solved when an Army Jupiter nose cone was recovered intact from the ocean after it plummeted back from space at a speed of 9,000 m. p. h.

The nose cone, which may spear-head the missiles of tomorrow, was equipped with special gear to help pinpoint its location at sea.

An automatically released parachute helped the cone glide gently to the water. Then a radio transmitter, blinker lights and a dye marker would lead searchers to the scene.

The Thor-Able, which stands more than 80 feet tall, uses about 160,000 pounds of thrust to put the nose cone toward its ballistic course. Then it soars power.

Former Resident Is From Phoenix, Ariz.

Former Warren resident Norman E. Blair was in Warren Thursday visiting old friends he had made in this area during the three and one-half years he spent in the forestry service and on construction jobs at the state hospital. Norm, now a registered engineer with a Phoenix, Ariz., architectural firm, was traveling with his father, W. Thorne Blair of Espsville, Pa. for the swing through Warren, Sheffield and Kane. The Normans Blairs left Warren for Cleveland about 1939. Daughter Linda Blair Merdick is now living in Phoenix, and second daughter Mrs. Clarice Rutherford resides in Hot Sulphur Springs, Colo. Both have two children. Norman is married to the former Annette Lore of DeYoung, near Kane.

Chautauqua Co. Has 19th Fatal of Year

MAYVILLE, N. Y. — Chautauqua County recorded its 19th traffic fatality of 1958 when a Springfield, N. Y., man was killed early Wednesday on Route 17 between Mayville and Westfield.

Dead is Edwin P. Kuhn, 40, of 16 S. Buffalo St., Springfield. According to the Mayville sheriff's office, Kuhn, the father of five, apparently was returning alone from a fishing trip. An outboard motor and fishing equipment were in the car.

The accident occurred, deputies said, when the car went down a small hill, bounded from a short curve and rolled over. The curve is notoriously dangerous and badly banked, they added.

Kuhn suffered a broken neck, according to Coroner Theodore Morse, Brocton, who investigated.

Strange Story About Recovery of Wallet

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — Joseph C. Johnson was strolling down the street thinking about his recent spinal surgery when he saw a wallet on the sidewalk.

Not wanting to bend over, he waited for someone to come along and pick up the wallet. No one did.

Finally, he stepped into a store and got a clerk to come out and pick it up. Inside, they found $1,500 in traveler's checks.

Police, notified of the wallet, stopped a bus headed out of the city and returned the wallet to William Steel, Warwick, N.J. Officers relayed Steel's thanks to Johnson.

Understanding Judge Sets Free Prisoner

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Andrew J. Ondek, 34, of Brackenridge, is a free man today because of the understanding of a judge.

Tarrant Police Chief Joseph Pierre testified Wednesday in a non-jury trial before Judge Henry C. O'Brien that Ondek held up the Physicians' Pharmacy in 1957 and fled with $60. Ondek surrendered to the police two hours later, Pierre said.

"I think he did it to spite his wife," the chief added.

Judge O'Brien commented, "I think I can understand why he would do a thing like this. Perhaps he wanted to show her he was a big guy." The judge then freed Ondek.

The 3 per cent levy is the largest revenue producer in the Commonwealth.

Greyhound Bus Burns After Catching Fire

BEAVER FALLS, Pa. (AP) — A Greyhound bus en route from New York to Chicago caught fire and burned today on the Pennsylvania Turnpike one mile east of the Beaver Valley Interchange. The driver and passengers escaped unharmed.

The driver, John M. Bee, 28, of Pittsburgh, pulled the bus off the roadway when he noticed smoke coming from a rear wheel.

He ordered the passengers out while he attempted to fight the blaze. The fire spread quickly, causing extensive damage throughout the vehicle. The nearby Hampton Twp. fire department finally extinguished the blaze.

The passengers were transferred to another bus.

State police said the blaze apparently was started by a defective tire which became overheated.

Letters and Parcels For Released Airmen

BERLIN (AP) — The American Red Cross Wednesday turned over to the East German Red Cross 17 more letters and 8 parcels for delivery to the nine U. S. Army prisoners held in Dresden.

An American Red Cross delegate also will inquire about mail from the prisoners to their families.

The Red Cross said so far only one delivery of mail has been received from Dresden.

The men have been held since their helicopter got lost in a thunderstorm June 6 and ran out of gas over East Germany. The East German Communist regime has refused to hand over the men.

Shapiro Urges More Money For People Drawing Relief

By LEONARD A. UNGER
HARRISBURG (AP) — Public Welfare Secretary Harry Shapiro said today more money must be spent to give persons on relief "a decent standard of living."

The 1959 Legislature he said must appropriate an extra 40 million dollars to do so or be criticized for allowing sub-standard living conditions among persons receiving public assistance.

"There's no reason at all for giving a family of four persons $150 a month to live on and then say that this same family should get $225 a month for a decent standard of living," he said.

He told The Associated Press that the Pennsylvania Citizens Assn has a valid point in urging that taxpayers must pay more now for relief if they are to pay less later for the support of economically dependent people.

PCA, a private organization, interested in health and welfare problems, recently recommended that relief grants be increased. The Commonwealth now spends about 146 millions every two years for this program.

Shapiro said a department study recently showed that the average family receiving public assistance is given one-third less than is needed for a minimum standard of living.

Relief rolls in Pennsylvania have ranged between 200,000 and 300,000 persons in recent years.

"No substantial adjustment has been made in the basic standard of public assistance since the program was begun in 1937," said the PCA in a recent report.

"We still require our dependent families to live under conditions which were characteristic of the great depression of the 30's even though occasional cost-of-living increases have been granted from time to time since then."

The PCA said it wasn't a question of helping the unemployed over the hump for a few months.

"But 80 per cent of the people receiving public assistance are dependent children, the aged and the physically handicapped who have no other means of support and who live for long periods under whatever conditions are forced on them by the level of their assistance grant," the organization said.

The department reported that Pennsylvania's expenditures for needy people ranks the state 41st in the union.

The American flag flies over Sulgrave Manor, ancestral home of George Washington, near Banbury England.

Technicians at State Discuss Picnic Plans

Plans for a family picnic will be discussed when the Pennsylvania Psychiatric Technicians at Warren State Hospital hold their monthly meeting, Monday evening in the dining room of North Annex B.

According to notices mailed by Robert J. Simpson, secretary, the picnic will be held at Wildcat Park, Ludlow, on Saturday, August 2, starting at 1 p. m. and lasting into the evening. The day's activities will include swimming, softball, tennis and just plain relaxing in the sun.

Various foodstuffs will be assigned to the members, with the organization furnishing many of the major items.

The Technicians extend their thanks to Clarence "Dutch" Bowers, chairman of the float committee, for the float which carried their insignia in the July 4th parade.

All Type Building Is Down in Pennsylvania

Secretary of Labor and Industry William L. Batt, Jr., announced today that the estimated dollar value of new construction authorized by 567 permit-issuing municipalities totaled $62,348,956 during the month of May 1958. This total represents a 24.6 per cent drop from the $82,655,574 total reported by 579 communities during the previous month. Moreover, the May 1958 estimate was about 15 per cent lower than the $75,644,457 total returned by 568 municipalities during May a year ago. Total planned construction reported for the first five months of 1958 was about 10 per cent lower in dollar volume than the total returned during the same period of 1957.

Estimates of proposed construction as compiled by the Bureau of Research and Statistics from a representative sample of 545 communities reporting each month, placed the May 1958 dollar activity at $60,854,439 or 25.1 per cent under the $81,287,070 volume reported during the month previous.

Total Warren building permits for May came to $382,250.

NEW RESIDENTIAL

During May 1958 the number of dwelling permits issued totaled 2,371 and they represented building construction valued at $32,420,883. This was in contrast with 2,473 permits issued in April 1958 which were valued at $33,075,997. In May of 1957, 568 municipalities issued 2,972 permits representing construction valued at $38,185,605. Especially interesting is the fact that during May of this year only 2,225 permits authorizing the building of 28,607,038 of One-Family Dwellings were issued. Last year during the same month, 2,918 permits were issued for the same type of construction and they had a total value of $36,283,605. On the basis of the above facts it would appear that the recently established more liberal policy on F.H.A. and V.A. loans has had little beneficial effect upon residential construction in this Commonwealth.

WHEN TO TRUMP PARTNER'S ACE

BY OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

With today's hand I take leave of Watson's book on play for a while.

As Watson points out, the man who trump's his partner's ace is seldom regarded favorably in bridge circles but there is a time and place for every play; even that one.

West opens the ace of diamonds against the five-heart contract, and if East is up on his toes he must trump that ace.

West had bid five diamonds all by himself and is vulnerable. Surely he holds an eight-card suit. Also he ought to have the spade ace on the side. Dummy has a nice long club suit and it is a cinch that South has all the missing high trumps. Hence, it is essential that East and West get in their spade tricks right away.

With ace-king of spades West would have opened a spade. Hence, South must hold the king.

No more thought is necessary. East should trump his partner's ace and lead the queen of spades.

♥♦CARD Sense♦♥

Q—The bidding has been:
East South West North
1♣ Pass Pass Double
Pass 1♦ Pass 2NT.
Pass ?

You, South, hold:
AK654 ♥K632 ♦Q94 ♠87

What do you do?
A—Bid three no-trump. Even though you have four hearts there is no need to show the suit and you want the lead to come up to your partner.

TODAY'S QUESTION

Instead of bidding two no-trump your partner bids two diamonds. What do you do now?

List of Entries in Annual Soap Box Derby Saturday

The Big Day will finally arrive Saturday for the 41 boys from throughout Warren County who have painstakingly labored for Warren's third annual Soap Box Derby, sponsored by the Times-Mirror, Dan's Chevrolet, and the Jaycees.

In the running of any Soap Box Derby, TIME is one of the most important factors in becoming a champ. But time isn't everything alone. There are many other factors, such as sportsmanship, construction, design, and originality, that add up to the making of a true champion. All boys can't be champs, but they're champs in other ways. Most boys who have raced at one time or another in the Soap Box Derby, rise to be real civic leaders in later years. Come Saturday, win or lose, this large field of Derby drivers will pit their skill and ingenuity in the individual heat races to nose out a component whose time was too slow, enabling him to qualify for another try on the two-lane speedway. But this year, each boy will receive a beautiful Derby ring for each heat won, plus many other valuable awards made available by the merchants throughout Warren County. Awards will be presented for the best constructed car, best design, fastest heat of the day, etc. The first place trophy will be presented at the Award Banquet by Gerald Archibald, representative from National Forge and Ordnance.

It is pleasing to note that in this year's field of Derby Drivers, nine sets of brothers will compete for the championship. Listed below is the entire list of '58 Derby Entrants:

New Fighter Will Carry at Least Two Atomic Warheads

By ELTON C. FAY
AP Military Affairs Writer
WASHINGTON (AP)—The F108 chemically fueled fighter will carry at least two atomic warhead guided missiles to blast enemy bombers while they are still more than a thousand miles from American soil.

Designed for a speed faster than three times that of sound, the plane is expected when completed to be able to take off from U. S. bases in time to intercept bombers at that distance.

New details on the fantastic, long-range interceptor and the B70 strategic bomber, both using the same high-energy fuel engines have become available in official and unofficial sources.

The Air Force is using much the same development-production technique applied to its missile program to expedite the time when the chemical fuel, high performance fighters and bombers will go into service. While development is being pushed, the groundwork for actual production of planes and power plants is being laid. However, the first flight of a chemically fueled plane still may be more than two years away.

North American Aviation, Inc., has the contracts for both the F108 and B70.

An announcement is expected shortly formally assigning the engine contract to the General Electric Co. That company already has started design work on an engine to use the new exotic fuel.

BOYLE'S COMMENT

NEW YORK (AP) — America has scored an unexpected culinary triumph at the Brussels International Exposition with — of all things — frozen custard.

"The Europeans have gone crazy over it," said David Berge, executive vice president of the Brasserie restaurant chain. "Last Sunday they bought 7,800 cones."

As supervisor of dining facilities in the American pavilion at the fair, Berge met nothing but headaches at the start.

"It seemed for a while like we had almost as many critics as customers," he remarked.

Berge found himself in the soup — literally — when he put Manhattan clam chowder on the menu. An indignant chorus from Connecticut to Maine immediately demanded equal billing for New England clam chowder.

Typical was an editorial comment by the famous "Vineyard Gazette" of Martha's Vineyard, Mass.: "It may be sometime demonstrated that Manhattan clam chowder is the main cause of juvenile delinquency. When the relaxation of old standards and principles begins, anything can happen."

Berge, a man who likes to keep everybody happy, bowed this week to regional pride.

"Starting this week we're putting both chowders on the menu," But Berge sturdily has fought back at native critics who thought his emphasis on such items as hamburgers and hot dogs were beneath the dignity of a mighty nation.

"We asked people who'd been abroad what things they missed most while away from home," he said. "They mentioned things like clam chowder, cheesecake, hamburgers, hot dogs, roast beef, corned beef, apple pie, American coffee, malted milks and ice cream sundaes."

Some critics sniffed at the quick lunch atmosphere of the American restaurant.

"But that's just what the mass of people at an exposition want," said Berge. "Most of them can't afford the $4 to $15 a meal it costs to eat the Continental style restaurants at the fair. That's for the luxury trade."

"At the American restaurant they can get a lunch consisting of a hamburger, apple pie and coffee for $1. Dinner costs $2 or less."

The U.S. restaurant is serving approximately 20,000 persons a day, said Berge.

"The French and Italians go most for frozen custard. The size of the double-dip 20-cent cones seems to fascinate them."

"The West Germans like our American coffee and cheesecake. The English, Scots and Irish find our barbecued chicken an adventure."

"Every nationality likes to try the hamburgers and hot dogs."

As a final rebuttal to his early critics, Berge rubbed his chubby hands together, and observed cheerfully: "You know, the chefs from the Hungarian pavilion and the guards at the Russian pavilion now eat in our restaurant whenever they can."

Engineer Journal Prints Article by Hammond Expert

Alexander Fino, Chief Engineer, Hammond Iron Works, has been honored by having his article on conservation tankage printed in "Erdol und Kohle" (Earth and Coal), the leading technical journal in Europe and Asia and a common reference for engineering schools in the United States.

Engineer Fino describes many of the conservation methods he has developed for storing volatile products while working at Hammond Iron which fabricates tanks around the world. Among the ideas utilized by the engineer are diallift tanks, the floating roof, special seals and compression methods.

It is pointed out that evaporation of gasoline or other volatile fuels can cost a storage area thousands of barrels a year. Many of the conservation devices in use today were invented by Mr. Fino and are licensed for use throughout the world by Hammonds.

"Erdol und Kohle" is read by engineers around the world, including countries behind the Iron Curtain. It is the organ of the German Association for the advancement of the Petroleum and Coal Industries.

UP THERE—Oil City shoppers were looking skyward Monday afternoon when attracted to the above activity in out of Veach Building as workers from Warren Neon and Manufacturing Company reconditioned and modernized a 30-y-6 foot sign on the building. Standing on the ladder is no one but owner-supervisor, Dennis DiPiero. Directly above Dennis is his ace trouble shooter, "Larry" and topping the sign is Lenny, chief steeple jack of the firm. The sign is the oldest and largest vertical sign in Oil City. Incandescent lights which formerly lit the sign, were changed to neon tubing.—Photo courtesy Oil City Derrick.

News From Camp Olmsted

(By CAMP REPORTER)

With nearly 100 in camp, Camp Olmsted is off to a capacity start on Scout Camping for the summer of 1958.

At the opening on Sunday, members of the camp staff helped the campers get settled in their campsites, and escorted new campers on an exploration tour of the camp and its facilities. One of the highlights of the tour was a first glimpse at the new winter camping cabin, Lampe Lodge.

At the opening campfire, Scout Executive Elmer Morgan indicated approximately 40 campers who were spending their first week at Camp Olmsted. He stated that being a Scout makes a difference in a boy, and challenged them to demonstrate that difference in camp.

The campfire, under the leadership of Camp Director Dick Bauer, program Director, Lee Thompson and Assistant Director Paul Shogren, served to acquaint the campers with the permanent staff, and program features they offered.

Dr. John Thompson of Youngsville gave physical rechecks to all those attending. In the provisional unit under the leadership of Don McCay are Andre Potter, Cameron Stewart, Carleton Tonkin, Gordon Busin, Roy Martin, Raymond Sheld, James Nordine, and Eric Sandblade.

Troop 2 of Grace Methodist Church attended under the leadership of Harry Summers, Carl Lindberg, and Craig Palmer. In attendance were Charles Kjell, Tom Lindberg, Ronald Bloom, John Lindberg, Robert Donaldson, Ronald Knoff, David Johnson, John Sandstrom, Donald McCurdy, John Olson, Remi Allen, Tom Flood, Russell Dase, Stuart Rydgren, Perry Ruland, Steve Summers, Gordon Sasserson, Jeffrey Tuller, Allen Hedges, Martin Reynolds, Joel Wilson, Frederick Rhodes.

Troop 9 of the First Methodist Church camped under the leadership of Jesse Lyons. In attendance are Jerry Lauffenburg, Dennis Winans, Bert Alexander, Thomas Smith, Donald Gebhart, Richard Ladner, David Lundahl, John Smith, Don Wilson, and Douglas Wilson.

Troop 27 and Post 27 of Tidoute attended under the leadership of William McGraw. Those attending are Harold Jackson, Jack Jackson, Dick McGuire, William McGraw, Richard Brown, Larry Atkins, Thomas Shield and Russell Bush.

Troop 31 of Youngsville attended under the leadership of Scoutmaster Jim Thompson. In attendance are C. Eric Johnson, Leslie Sanford, Gary Brown, Bill Johnson, Robert Wing, Gary Sitter, William Jackson, Donald Snow, John Donaldson, Stephen Melzer, James Dailey, Thomas Stuckland, Fred Lohness, William Patchen, Brent Borton, Craig Wood, and Philip Wood.

N. Korean Soldier Attacks U. N. Military Police Shelter

SEOUL (AP)—A North Korean soldier armed with hand grenades and a submachinegun stole through the U. N. portion of the demilitarized zone between North and South Korea July 4 and made a one-man attack on a U. N. military police shelter.

The Communist soldier tossed a grenade into the shelter, killing one South Korean soldier and wounding another. He started to throw another grenade, but a third South Korean soldier who had gone outside to investigate a noise shot him.

The intruder fell on his own grenade and was killed by its blast.

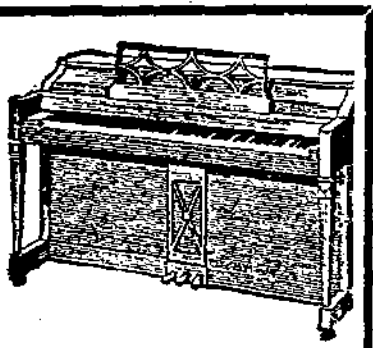

The story was told today in a communique from the U. N. Command, which termed the attack "one of the most bizarre incidents of the cold war in this bitterly divided peninsula."

The U. N. Command said Communist representatives on the joint observer team for the demilitarized zone claimed the incident was instigated by the U. N. Command. The Reds refused to acknowledge the attack as one of their side or to accept his remains "in spite of a North Korean uniform and other material which pointed to his Communist origin," the communique said.

Lt. Col. William R. Washington of Crozet, Va., chief of the U. N. observers, rejected the Red charge. He told the Communists the U. N. Command would give the attacker a decent burial if the Reds wouldn't accept the body.

BIG DANCE

Pleasant Grange is planning a big dance tomorrow evening in their grange hall for young and old alike. Round, square, polka and plenty of rock and roll will be featured. YOUR FOREST RANGER

L. E. Stoltz

It is often the lot of a forest-ranger to race the hungry flames of a forest fire to save a block of prime timber from destruction.

Less spectacular is his race to break up the life cycle of an insect that threatens to kill or deform the trees in a plantation or forest.

Toward the end of June, or early July, wherever there are extensive plantations of red pine, a rusty orange-red moth with a wing spread of only three-quarters of an inch, but a Latin name that takes up two inches of print (Rhyacionia buoliana (Schiff.)), might be laying its eggs and starting another generation of European Pine Shoot Moths.

If this little moth should find its way to your red pine trees it will deposit its eggs near the tips of the twigs. The second stage in the life cycle of this foreign pest begins ten days after the eggs are laid. This is the larval or "worm" stage. These little fellows get busy and bore into the bases of the needles. Unfortunately, they will not be content to stay there. If they did, little harm would be done to the trees. Instead, late in the summer they will leave the needles and set up housekeeping in the buds. This will cause a flow of pitch which will harden over the tunnels made by the larvae. Here they will hibernate until spring.

There is one thing the larvae cannot stand. That is a good old fashioned winter—the kind that has extended periods of at least 10 degrees below zero. The "hard" winter we experienced in Pennsylvania last year was still not old fashioned enough to kill the larvae. If the winter months are mild they will live comfortably in their burrows, and in the spring they will continue their depredations by boring into other buds, or the developing shoots, which they will kill or deform. This larval stage is a busy one. Like any other baby, the larva's sole business is to eat and grow. About 18 days before the life cycle is complete, and it turns into a moth, it changes into a pupa. This is the inactive stage of the insect—at least it doesn't move around. However, it is during this stage that all of the wonderful changes occur that transform an ugly, earthbound "worm" into a lovely little moth.

There are two possible methods of control, neither of which are fool-proof. If the trees are small enough so that a man can reach the terminal shoots without too much straining on tip toes, and if he can scan each tree quickly and thoroughly as he covers the rows, he can clip the infested leaders and shoots with hand clippers while the larvae are still in their burrows. He should carry a canvas bucket on his arm, and place the clipped shoots in them for prompt and thorough burning.

If the trees are too big to treat by hand, in this manner, they can be sprayed with a DDT solution by a low flying helicopter. The terrific down draft of the rotor blade forces the spray to all parts of the trees. This method, however, is very costly and must be timed with the emergence of the moth. Past experience has indicated that only a fifty per cent kill may result.

The best way to avoid the European Pine Shoot Moth attacks is to move up to the northern part of the natural range of the red pine and establish your plantations there. The winters are cold enough there to kill the larvae. If you have plantations in which the trees are large enough, and planted close enough together, so that you have crown closure, little damage may be expected.

On the Sheffield District of the Allegheny National Forest, we recently experienced another attack of the Shoot Moth on the Economy Farm Plantations, and we used the hand method of control.

Like the price of liberty, the price of controlling the European Pine Shoot Moth is eternal vigilance. This means an annual examination of plantations, early in May, for indications of the larval stage. This should be done until such time as the trees have grown out of danger through crown closure.

DERBY UPS AND DOWNS

By Mary Harland

Derby Downs is the most modern and efficient racing plant of its kind in the world. It is geared for the precision and split-second timing necessary for running such a race.

The race is controlled from a three-decker steel bridge over the finish line. Bleacher and grandstand seats line the sides of the track. Electric eye and photo-finish camera equipment aid judges on the bridge. A complete communication network ties together all parts of the plant, linking the starting line near Topside with the control bridge.

The newly resurfaced racing strip is 975.4 feet long and is painted green to cut down glare. There are three racing lanes. Each lane has a silver border and a dotted yellow center line to guide drivers. Skirt boards along the track are capped with rubber.

Derby Downs incline is less than 16 per cent for a few feet at the starting line, then quickly drops to a six per cent grade further down. Racers can average about 26 miles an hour in 27 seconds of racing.

Derby Downs' grounds are beautifully landscaped with President Camm's lining both sides of the course in front of the stands. These are planted on June 1, so that they will be in full bloom by race day. Three days before the race, drawings are held to determine the heat and the lane in which the champions will race in their first round. During later eliminations by lot between rounds. Three, and occasionally two, cars race in each heat.

At the starting line near Topside, cars are lined up with noses against metal baffle plates. These plates are attached to a metal shaft. When the starting lever is released, the baffle plates drop even with the track and the cars are away to a perfect start. On race day, one heat is dispatched every 60 seconds. It takes five rounds to determine the champion.

After the race, prizes are awarded at the Banquet of Champions. Prior to the race, each city champion receives a sweep-second-hand wrist watch. Scholarship awards and trophies are presented by Chevrolet to the first five place winners. Other winners receive valuable merchandise awards. Special prizes are given for the best designed car, best constructed car, best upholstered car, the car with the best brakes, and

Weekly Business Review

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A few cuts of beef are finding their way into the headlines of the supermarket and neighborhood grocery advertisements this week.

Most of these specials are chuck ground beef and rump roasts, all longtime bargain favorites. Some stores are making a pitch for round roasts and steaks. And beefsteaks and roasts are expected to be less expensive this summer.

Better grade beef normally rises in price in July and August, but feed lots are crowded now and this is expected to result in heavier marketings of grain-fattened cattle.

Supermarket meat men report little change at wholesale levels this week. Pork chops are 6 to 10 cents higher in the stores in some areas, 6 cents lower in others. Leg of lamb is 2 to 4 cents a pound more in a few places and eggs a shade higher in scattered sections.

to the car with the fastest single heat for the day.

This year marks the 1st All-American Derby event to be staged at beautiful Derby Downs in Akron, Ohio, when the local Warren champion will again receive that all expense paid trip to try for top honors.

Once again, however, the shopper can get plenty of bargains in fruits and vegetables. Lettuce, beets, cabbage, kohlrabi, radishes, green onions, snap beans, new potatoes from Virginia and North Carolina, yellow onions, spinach and tomatoes all are rated as outstanding buys.

You can also get good buys in vegetables among nearby pascal and golden heart celery, cucumbers, endives, escarole, western carrots, sweet corn, peppers and Florida eggplant.

Fruit bins are spilling over with peaches, bananas, watermelons, blueberries and cherries. Peaches are especially attractive in price.

Cleveland General Manager Discusses Bragan Question

By RUGER FULLERTON JR.
NEW YORK (AP)—Frank Lane, Cleveland Indians' general manager who has quite a reputation for trading ballplayers and second guessing managers, finally admitted he thinks all good managers are about even.

Lane, who came here with the Indians after the All-Star Game, was easily discussing some repercussions of his firing Bobby Bragan as the club's manager last month.

He was sad mainly because a writer had asked a few questions about specific incidents leading up to Bragan's dismissal and Lane's frank replies, when they appeared in print, made Bobby look bad as a manager and Lane look extremely critical.

It was, in fact, only the second

Sports Legislation May Be Sidelined for the Present

By WHITNEY SHOEMAKER
Associated Press Sports Writer
WASHINGTON (AP)—Questions raised by senators may sideline sports legislation backed by Casey Stengel, the Yankees manager, and star baseball players.

Sen. Joseph C. O'Mahoney (D-Wyo.) said today he is against the House-passed measure in its present form. The bill would give pro team sports certain important exemptions from antitrust laws.

"It is clearly a club owners' bill," O'Mahoney told reporters.

"It is not a fans' bill, nor a players' bill, nor a bill for the businessmen in any city who would like to have a major league team."

O'Mahoney, a member of the Senate Antitrust subcommittee that opened hearings Wednesday, also charged that baseball Commissioner Ford Frick and club owners influenced players to support the bill.

Subcommittee Chairman Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn.) said to seek a "blanket waiver of the antitrust and federal communications laws is a big request."

As passed by the House, the bill would exempt from antitrust laws the contract reserve clause, player draft, trades and territorial

Clutch Pitching Gives Betts 11-4 Win Over Jones

Some tight clutch pitching by Ken Sorensen and Gene Sweet enabled Betts Black Knights to subdue Jones Chevrolet 11-4 last night in a City Softball encounter at West Side Diamond.

Although allowing 12 hits (just one less than Betts slammed out), the pair of aces used speedballs to strand 11 men on base. Betts Blackies rapped Mike Steffan for 13 safeties, Bill Massa leading with 3 singles.

Betts scored in each inning but the eighth. Big rally was in first frame, when three came home and Lou Cummings homered. Betts also scored in innings 2, 3, 4 and 5, with Massa singling home a pair.

Sheffield got one back in the second when Steffan singled. Clyde Farnsworth's sacrifice fly brought a tally in the fourth. Betts pulled away with two each in the sixth and seventh to preserve the win. Lefty Haight's double drove in the first two, Ken Sorensen doubled in the last two.

Joe Gordon Doing Little Gloating Over Slaughter

NEW YORK (AP)—Joe Gordon held forth at second base for the New York Yankees for many a year, but nowadays he's strictly an enemy of the Bronx Bombers.

And, as an enemy will on occasion, he did a little gloating, today.

"Boy," he laughed, "I'll bet they felt strange last night after getting rid of Power, Held and Hunter."

He was referring to Wednesday night's 12-2 slaughter of the Yanks — the first time he's come up against them as manager of the Cleveland Indians. He took over for Bobby Bragan two weeks ago and the Tribe has won 7 of 11 since.

Vic Power, Woody Held and Billy Hunter all were laborers for Casey Stengel in recent years, but the Yanks couldn't find a spot for them. Wednesday night, they really went to town against Whitey Ford and Virgil Trucks. Power had five hits, Held two and Hunter two.

The game was the only one scheduled in the American League Wednesday night. In the only National League game, the Los Angeles Dodgers defeated the first-place Milwaukee Braves 10-3.

The Tribe collected 19 hits off Ford and Trucks. It was the worst barrage the Yanks have been subjected to this season.

Actually, it was a close battle between Ford and Cal McLish for seven innings. But in the eighth, the Indians scored seven runs.

National Publix Links Tournament Golf Who's Who

CHICAGO (AP)—The National Public Links tournament is a golfing who's who for Joe Doaks. The most democratic of all big golfing meets will be trimmed to the four semifinalists by nightfall.

Sixteen survivors entered today's double round of match play, including 19-year-old Don Essig of Indianapolis, the defending champion and medalist.

The oldest man remaining is Art Melnikoff of Chicago. At 43, Art is working an 11 p.m. to 7 a.m. night shift as a roto-gravure and beating the pants off his opponents over the long Silver Lake course during the day.

The youngest left is Gene Hansen of Minneapolis, 18-year-old carpenter's helper playing in his first Publix meet.

Marchbroda Signs With Cardinals Again

CHICAGO (AP)—Ted Marchbroda, veteran quarterback from St. Bonaventure and the University of Detroit, has signed for another season with the Chicago Cardinals of the National Football League.

Marchbroda, who was obtained from the Pittsburgh Steelers last year, will be starting his first full season with the Cardinals.

Dodger Boss Not Quite Satisfied With Team Play

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Dodger boss Walter O'Malley stormed home from the East Wednesday night threatening his cellar-dwelling team with a drastic shake-up.

"The players are hereby put on notice that changes will be made until we get the right combination," he told newsmen before Wednesday night's game with the Braves, which his charges promptly went out and won, 10-3.

He added: "Replacements will come from any place we can obtain them — other major league clubs, our farm system, other minor league clubs."

How about Manager Walt Alston?

"He's our manager and he's going to stay. So far as I'm concerned, he gets a vote of confidence for the first half of the season and I'm not changing the party line at this time."

A reporter wanted to know if that meant Alston will be retained at least through the present season.

"Definitely," he answered. But he hedged when reporters pressed for more details.

Valdes Is Back In Heavyweight Title Picture

SPOKANE (AP)—Nino Valdes responded to a swat on the pants from his manager with a right to the chin of Harold Carter. Wednesday night and jumped right back into the heavyweight title picture.

Valdes, behind on points, got the swat along with stern orders in Spanish from Manager Bobby Gleason to get going in the ninth round. He quickly got the message and laid Carter out cold in 1:40 of the round after dropping him for an eight count seconds before.

Referee Joe August didn't even bother to count as Carter went down on his face and rolled over on his back. He raised Valdes' hand, then scrawled "TKO" across his score card.

Thus, it became an official technical knockout at that moment regardless of what Carter did. It developed he did nothing but remain unconscious for another 60 seconds, then wobble out of the ring.

The nationally-televised fight, scheduled for 10 rounds, was the second test for the 24-year-old Carter since his discharge last winter from the Army.

He had been slightly favored on the strength of a 10-round decision June 13 over Willi Besmanoff and was ahead on all three official score cards when the end came.

Wildcats Down Bombers in Tilt For Third Place

Jamestown.—Fred Gray, veteran right-hand fireballer of Ludlow, held the Jamestown Bombers pretty much in submission for eight and two-thirds innings in Municipal Stadium Wednesday night and the Wildcats edged the Jamestown Bombers, 5-4, in a battle for third place in the Intercity League standings.

Although he tired and was relieved by Ed Fragle in the ninth, when Bobby Bender's Bombers scored two runs and had the paths choked when the third man was retired, Gray was the big man on the field. He wound up his stink by striking out 10 men, walking five three of them in the ninth and hitting one with a pitch. Gray also collected two of the Wildcats' nine hits.

Smart base running by the Wildcats was a definite factor in their victory. They swiped seven bases in all, paced by Fragle and Parisi, with two each.

Dodgers Knock Down Braves Eighth Time

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Gobbling up second-division teams with regularity is the common behavior among front runners in the major leagues.

But that's not the way it's working with the first-place Milwaukee Braves and the last-place Los Angeles Dodgers.

Wednesday night the Dodgers knocked down the Braves for the eighth time in 10 meetings this season. The score was 10-3.

This was the only game in the National League. In the American League's only action, the Cleveland Indians belted the New York Yankees 12-3.

The Braves will be here again tonight. Pittsburgh will be at Chicago, Philadelphia at St. Louis and Cincinnati at San Francisco.

The heroes of Wednesday night's piece were Steve Bilko and Stan Williams.

Bilko, a local idol when he played in the Coast League for the old Los Angeles Angels, made his first starting appearance at home since his recent acquisition from Cincinnati. He slammed a three-run homer in the first inning. The big first basemen drove in another run later with a sacrifice fly.

Williams, a rookie right-hander, pitched a pretty four-hitter and picked up his fourth victory in seven decisions.

Right behind Bilko in run production was rookie catcher John Roseboro, who drove in three with a double and a single. He scored twice himself, once after tripling.

The fact of whether ambergris comes from live or dead sperm whales never has been ascertained.

DA's Disclosure Reveals Slick Boxing Operation

BY HARRY GRAYSON
NEA Sports Editor

NEW YORK—(NEA)—On one of the paneled walls in Julius Helfand's carpeted, air conditioned office on West 47th Street is a picture showing him being sworn in as chairman of the New York State Athletic Commission by Carmine DeSapio, the Democratic mastermind of the Empire State.

The crux of the crushing trouble boxing is in around New York seems to be in that picture. For it is the district attorney, not the politically-appointed commissioner, who has been forced to take over what now seems to be the most loosely-run boxing in memory.

A judge, Bert Grant, was indicted on a charge of receiving bribes from Hymie Wallman, the manager. My sensitive ears inform me another judge is about this close to being brought in on similar charges. Could happen any day. Grant came as a shock to most, but the next indictment will surprise nobody.

Nor is it a surprise that Wallman, the mink baron, suddenly comes out as more than a grammar school pal of Frank Carbo—altogether now, "The Underworld Commissioner of Boxing."

IT MUST BE LISTED as a surprise to Helfand. He never did anything about it. Nor has he intimated he intends doing anything about anybody else. Apparently he is now forced to sit and allow the DA to handle this his own way.

Hailed as the complete investigator when he was appointed only three years ago to a business he knew nothing about, Helfand's ability now must be questioned; his status defined in terms of just another political man holding a soft state job.

Helfand made quite a to-do about the Managers' Guild, which he broke up. But Willie Gilzenberg, one of the two persons tossed out in the headline-making furore, put it best a year later.

"I am," he mused, "the net result of a big deal. Me and Tex Sullivan. Between us we can't meet the payments. And Frank Carbo is bigger now than he ever was. That's a commission for you."

THIS TRIP IT IS AN authentic big deal. The district attorney wants James D. Norris to appear before the grand jury. He wants many others.

Apparently, as one grand jury witness puts it, "They got a lot. They asked me questions which showed they knew about a lot of things even I didn't know. They are going to make a lot of trouble."

And Helfand is left sitting his office and trying to explain, as crisply and authoritatively as he can, what is going on. He doesn't need to. "The history of politicians in sports is too well known."

Next witness—and please raise your right hand. This is for real.

MONIAK, ROWLAND IN ACTION WITH CORNING

Two bonus babies for Boston Red Sox from the Warren area, Bill Moniak of Youngsville and Bud Rowland of Lander, saw action the past week in Corning of New York-Pennsylvania League. Moniak had a brief stay with Raleigh of the Carolina League before going to Corning. While with Raleigh, Moniak hit slightly over .200. He went two-for-seven Sunday in a double-header, his first competition for Corning and had one hit in four trips Monday against Erie. Rowland has worked two games in relief without a decision to date.

High School Graduate Receives Promotion

It will interest relatives in the area and many old friends of Burton C. Erickson, Birmingham, Mich., to learn that he has been promoted to the post of chief engineer in the product engineering office of Ford Motor Company's transmission and chassis division. He succeeds James Knowles, recently named executive assistant to the vice president of manufacturing.

Son of Mr. and Mrs. B. R. Erickson, 15 Franklin street, Erickson was graduated from Warren High School and, in 1933, received his degree in mechanical engineering from Case School of Applied Science in Cleveland, O.

After being associated with the Packard Motor Company in Detroit for 10 years, he joined the engineering staff of Ford Motor Company.

His home is in Birmingham, suburb of Detroit.

Area Student News

Mr and Mrs Carl L. Lindberg, 1410 Pennsylvania avenue, east, have had word from Albion, Mich., College that their son, David H. Lindberg, earned a place on the Dean's List during the past semester. A pre-medical student, young Lindberg will be entering his senior year in September and is majoring in history.

The Lindbergs have also had word from Dickinson College in Carlisle that another son, Stanley W., also made the Dean's List for his past semester. Stanley, member of Kappa Sigma social fraternity, is majoring in English and will be a sophomore this fall.

Word comes from Pennsylvania State University that John Timmis, Jr., son of Mr and Mrs John Timmis, St. 619 Conewango avenue, has been placed on the Dean's List for this past semester's accomplishments. Currently, young Timmis is at Standing Stone Playhouse at Neff Mills, Pa., for the summer season.

Hollywood News

By BOB THOMAS
AP Motion Picture Writer
LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — To bare or not to bare — that is the question facing the night club operators here.

This capital of live entertainment has gone all out for nudgy Showgirls stripped to the waist have become as common as slot machines. Some wear little more than a few strategic sequins, and a few don't even bother with that.

The climax came with the importation of the Paris Lido show at the giant new Stardust Hotel. A dozen statuesque foreign beauties paraded across the stage in a manner that could win them chest colds in the air-conditioned theater.

Is this nudgy good or bad for Las Vegas?

You hear it both ways, judging from which side of the Strip you are on. The newer hotel-casinos on the west side of the Strip, as the nightclub-studded street is known, have thrived on it. The more established places on the east side are tsik-isking.

"I think it's bad," said Ben Goffstein of the Riviera. "It's like a comedian resorting to smut. If he can't entertain without it, he can't be very good."

"A passing fancy," remarked Jack Entatter of the Sands. "If you've got the star names you don't need nudgy to attract customers."

Monte Proser of the Tropicana said Las Vegas has been at least partly built on family trade and families may be scared away from entertainment that might be deemed unsuitable for tender minds.

Nude or not the shows are doing great business. The town was completely booked over the Fourth with 75,000 fun-lovers crowding in from all over.
